Dear reader,

2016 was an exciting and successful year for Ecopreneur.eu, the European Sustainable Business Federation. We officially acquired legal status as an "association internationale sans but lucratif" (aisbl), a non-profit non-governmental organization under Belgian law.

Objectives and goals

Ecopreneur.eu advocates a genuinely sustainable economy and lobbies on the European level for a sustainable economy and better conditions for green start-ups and SMEs.

With Ecopreneur.eu we set a course toward sustainable economic policies on the European level to support the economic and societal transformation towards sustainability

By issuing several position papers for more ambitious legal frameworks in the European Union, Ecopreneur.eu successfully continued its political work.

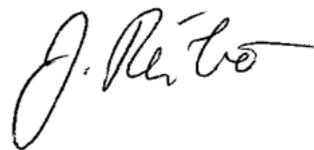

In June 2016, the first General Assembly of the association was held in Paris. The board consisting of representative of our member associations was elected, strategies and visions for Ecopreneur.eu were developed.

As an association of sustainable business pioneers, we were participating, organizing, and contributing to several international high-level events, such as the 20th European Forum on Eco-innovation in Tallinn in October 2016, or the breakfast event "SME and the Circular Economy Package" hosted by the SME Inter-group and sponsored by Ecopreneur.eu.

Also, we continued growing: the Sustainable Business Association (SEA) from Belgium and the Foundation for Circular Economy from Hungary joined the association.

Ecopreneur.eu currently holds seven member associations: De Groene Zaak (Netherlands), Sustainable Economy Association (Belgium), UnternehmensGrün (Germany), ECOVE (Spain), Grüne Wirtschaft (Austria), Entreprendre Vert (France) and the Foundation for Circular Economy (Hungary), which together represent more than 2.500 sustainable companies in Europe.

Enjoy reading our annual report 2016!

Political lobby work

Ecopreneur.eu is lobbying for the transformation of economic, environmental and energy policy and the integration of sustainability into policy making at the European level.

Key Topics include:

- Sustainable Development Goals
- Circular Economy
- Climate Protection
- Eco-innovation and Entrepreneurship
- Energy change
- Modernization of the tax system

Circular Economy Package

The circular economy package is of enormous importance for the sustainable economy in Europe. On 2 May 2016, Ecopreneur.eu hosted the breakfast event "SME and the cycle economy package" where representatives of the EU Commission, the European Parliament, economic organizations and NGOs discussed the opportunities and barriers of the recycling industry.

As a speaker for this event, the economics expert Arthur ten Wolde of De Groene Zaak (NL) took part. Ecopreneur.eu favours a circular economy package with ambitious targets, clear price incentives, requirements for eco-design and new, intelligent regulations.

Continue reading here.

Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR)

Ecopreneur.eu and its affiliates are convinced that Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) is crucial for the realization of the circular economy. In its general opinion on the EU circular economy package, Ecopreneur.eu asks for an ambitious implementation of the current proposal of the European Commission, including:

- More demanding targets across the board
- Economic incentives for producers and consumers who prefer circulating products and services
- a mandatory green public procurement that integrates recycling management
- an EU directive for the design of recycled products
- and attractive research programs (position paper)

Waste directive

Ecopreneur.eu welcomed the first draft report by Simona Bonafè of 24.5.2016 on the proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directive 2008/98 / EC on waste (COM (2015) 0595 - C8-0382 / 2015) 2015/0275 (COD)). The provisions in this Directive should aim to support the design and production of goods and services which take fully into account and facilitate the efficient use of resources during the whole life cycle of the product including their ease of repair, disassembly, re-use, and recycling, but also of services, which offer great opportunities for resource efficiency. Products-as-a service, durability, refurbishment, remanufacturing, sharing platforms and digitization should be added on the list of waste prevention methods.

Ecological transition

Ecopreneur.eu and its affiliates are convinced that the implementation of the Paris Agreement and the Sustainable Development Goals are crucial for achieving an ecological transition of the economic system within EU. Through its Spanish member ECOVE has published a position paper to encourage this transition in Spain, and has taken active role in COP22 Marrakech to raise awareness on these topics.

Events

General Meeting

During the first general meeting of Ecopreneur.eu in Paris (24/25 June 2016), the six leading green economic associations of Europe were represented. Important components of the first Annual General Meeting were the joint strategy development (including communication) as well as the formation of "working groups" for emerging specialist and organizational questions. The following topics will be concentrated on in the future:

- the implementation of the Paris Convention for Climate Protection,
- Eco-innovation with functional projects,
- the energy transition,
- Promotion of recycling,
- Eco-entrepreneurship
- Modernization of the tax system

With Marjolein Demmers (President, The Netherlands), Alyssa Jade McDonald-Bärtl (Vice President, Germany), Gael Guillou (Treasurer, Vice President, Belgium) and the other members of the Board Plass (Austria), the team underlined the central themes of SMEs with an ethical and green orientation in Europe.

“Unwrapping the Package - towards a Circular Economy in Europe”, Rotterdam

At the conference "Unwrapping the Package - towards a Circular Economy in Europe", that took place in Rotterdam on 25 January 2016, Ecopreneur.eu presents the circular economy from the practical perspective of its member companies. While stakeholders in the EU, the civil society and the public authorities discussed the challenges and opportunities of a European circular policy (CE) for two days in Europe and the possible implications of the new proposal of the EU Commission, the circle pioneers demand much more ambitious and ambitious Strengthened CE package.

Hugo Schally, Head of Unit, Directorate General Environment", "Eco-innovation and circular economy", Dr. Katharina Reuter (Ecopreneur.eu, Coordination)

“12th round of negotiations on TTIP”, Brussels

Participation of Ecopreneur.eu in the 12th round of negotiations on TTIP: The 12th round of the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership Agreement (TTIP) took place in the week 22-26 February 2016 in Brussels. On Wednesday 24th, the European Commission's Directorate-General for Trade held a stakeholder engagement in which organizations had the opportunity to comment on the proposed free trade agreement. In the course of the event Katharina Reuter of Ecopreneur.eu emphasized the risks of the TTIP for the food and agriculture sector.

“SME and the Circular Economy”, Brussels

Arthur ten Wolde (de Groene Zaak) and Reinhard Bütikhofer (MEP, European Greens)

Ecopreneur.eu sponsored the Breakfast Events on “SME and the Circular Economy Package”, organized by the SME Intergroup on 20. April 2016 in Brussels. Participants were Daniel Calleja-Crespo (Director General Environment), Arthur ten Wolde (CE expert Ecopreneur.eu), Arnaldo Abruzzini (representative of Eurochambres), Mr. Stephane Arditi (Policy Manager for Product and Waste of European Environmental Bureau). The discussion was chaired by MEP Reinhard Bütikhofer. The event proved to be very successful and received a high response. Representatives of the EU Commission, the EU Parliament, economic organizations and NGOs discussed the opportunities and barriers of the recycling industry.

International Conference on Sustainable Development, Thessaloniki

UnternehmensGrün e.V. and Ecopreneur.eu were invited to the 2nd International Conference on Sustainable Development in Thessaloniki, a three-day sustainability event (20-22 May 2016). The conference, organized by students, highlighted the complexity of the obstacles and goals of sustainable economic development. The topics of the lectures included the difficulties of sustainable development, the importance of an environmentally friendly lifestyle, the necessity of the interaction between the three pillars of sustainable development (economy - environment - society) and the practical application of the principles of sustainable development in our everyday life. On behalf of the two organizations, Mrs Juliane Reiber took part in the conference as a speaker and underlined the importance of the green economy for sustainable development.

Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

Following the adoption of the Agenda for Sustainable Development in 2030, which is a global common set of rules for sustainable development, the countries are now pursuing the objectives of sustainable development (SDG). Success requires new forms of cooperation - between business, civil society, government and science across Europe. In order to discuss these new forms and to promote the SDGs in Europe, a high-level meeting on "How to make sustainable development targets on the European issue - a multi-stakeholder approach" was held in Brussels on 30 and 31 May 2016. The meeting was organized by the Ministry of For-

Foreign Affairs of the Netherlands, the SDG Charter, the Sustainable Development Solutions Network and the European Economic and Social Committee. Participants from various sectors of the society were representatives of companies, business associations, NGOs and government representatives from within the EU, and some non-EU countries.

Marjolein Demmers, Member of the Board Ecopreneur.eu, and Mara Francken (both De Groene Zaak) attended the meeting and represented the European voice of the green companies.

“20th Eco-Innovation Forum”, Tallinn

Ecopreneur.eu was part of the „Task Group“, which organized the 20th Eco-Innovation Forum. This event was organized by DG Environment and the Estonian Ministry of the Environment in Tallinn, Estonia from 26 to 28 October 2016. Ecopreneur.eu provided expert information on green SMEs, recycling and sustainable business models.

Ecopreneurs for the Climate 2016

ECOVE, the Spanish member of Ecopreneur.eu, launched “Ecopreneurs for the Climate” \(ECO4CLIM\). ECO4CLIM is a non-profit organization that boosts and scales-up sound green business solutions that tackle climate change, as well as organizes annually, the Global Week of the Green Business and the Climate Movement. In its first edition in 2015, it involved more than 500 companies and civil society actors in seven European cities. In 2016, the range tripled, with 22 cities from 16 different countries participating in the second edition (ECO4CLIM16), from 24 to 30 October.

Ecopreneur.eu was one of the six global partners of Eco4Clim. A total of 22 cities from 16 countries organized an event within the "2016 Global Week of Green Business and the Climate Movement" (#ECO4CLIM16). The aim was to network, promote and empower sustainable enterprises and eco-entrepreneurs in order to find sustainable business solutions for the challenges of climate change.

Entreprendre Vert organized a workshop in Paris, UnternehmensGrün was a partner of the Berlin Initiative, with Juliane Reiber representing the association as a jury member.

Further events:

- Participation in panel on POLFREE Conference in Brussels on 16-2-2016

Online Action Day

What are the drivers and motives of eco-entrepreneurs? What are the challenges sustainable start-ups face? What are the right instruments for them to succeed?

In a European-wide survey about the European Green Economy, eco-entrepreneurs gave answers to these and similar questions. It was carried out by UnternehmensGrün e.V. in close cooperation with Ecopreneur.eu. An informative picture of the sustainable European economy can be drawn from the responses of the eco-entrepreneurs from seven different EU countries, various economic sectors, and company age/size. The results of the survey got published as part of our "Online Action Day" at the end of October 2016 and the most interesting results can be read in the handout on our website.

The handout was part of the project "Greening Europe's Economy 2016" which was financially supported by the German Federal Environment Agency (UBA) with funds of the Federal Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation, Building and Nuclear Safety (BMUB).

Position papers

Green Action Plan for SMEs: opportunities and challenges

9. February 2016: The European Commission has recently published the Green Action Plan for SMEs: opportunities and challenges. The overall aim of the Green Action Plan is to enable green SMEs to turn environmental challenges into business opportunities. The plan outlines a series of actions, such as improving resource efficiency, facilitating green entrepreneurship, grasping the opportunities of greening value chains and establishing a circular economy, easier access to market and a European-wide, supportive governance for SMEs. In this position paper on the Green Action Plan for SMEs, Ecopreneur.eu recommends several improvements for facilitating the transformation of the current linear economy towards a circular, sustainable one, fostering innovation and green entrepreneurship in SMEs.

Improvement of Extended Producer Responsibility \(EPR\) crucial for circular economy

5. April 2016: Ecopreneur.eu and its member organizations believe that Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) is crucial for realizing the circular economy. Ecopreneur.eu asks for ambitious implementation of the current proposal from the European Commission, including ambitious goals along the full circle, economic incentives for producers and consumers favouring circular products and services, mandatory Green Public Procurement with integration of circularity, an EU Directive for circular design, and attractive research programs.

Ecopreneur.eu asked for the improvement and extension of existing EPR schemes to incentivize companies to implement circular business models. Further, enforcing the existing waste regulations and a differentiation of levies down to product and company level. Harmonized criteria must be ensured, established, and applied consistently across the EU, including calculation schemes for the height of levies.

Extend EPR schemes to cover more and more products and sectors and a mandatory investment of the EPR funds in the circular economy.

Position on the draft Simona Bonafè report on amendment of the Waste Directive

20. June 2016: Ecopreneur.eu welcomed the first draft report by Simona Bonafè dated 24.5.2016 on the proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directive 2008/98/EC on waste (COM (2015)0595 – C8-0382/2015 – 2015/0275(COD)).

The provisions in this Directive should aim to support the design and production of goods and services which take fully into account and facilitate the efficient use of resources during the whole life cycle of the product including their ease of repair, disassembly, re-use, and recycling, but also of services, which offer great opportunities for resource efficiency. Products-as-a service, durability, refurbishment, remanufacturing, sharing platforms and digitization should be added on the list of waste prevention methods. Horizon 2020 is, in its present design unattractive for pioneering sustainable companies, and especially for SMEs and young companies developing circular business models. Ecopreneur.eu suggests to either increase the budget and make it attractive for them, or re-assign the budget to be invested in innovation towards a circular economy through other schemes. Ecopreneur.eu strongly suggests opening up the VAT directive to allow for differentiation on the basis of resource efficiency will correct a serious flaw in the CE Package: the absence of financial incentives for consumer.

Partnerships and collaboration

Alliance for Circular Economy Solutions

The Alliance for Circular Economy Solutions \(ACES\) is a collaboration of sustainable businesses, NGOs and think tanks committed to an ambitious circular economy policy in Europe. Ecopreneur.eu members UnternehmensGrün and De Groene Zaak became partners of ACES. The alliance combines business voices with economic and social analysis on the impact of the circular economy. Its core objectives will be to secure the European Circular Economy Package that was recently adopted by the EU Commission. An ambitious circular economy policy generates new jobs and revenues whilst driving product innovation, secondary raw material use and new business models.

Alliance partners: Green Alliance, Aldersgate Group, De Groene Zaak, Ecologic Institute, Institute for European Environmental Policy (IEEP) and UnternehmensGrün

Green Action Plan Task Force

In November Ecopreneur.eu became part of the "Green Action Plan Task Force". The CAP Task Force is responsible for monitoring the implementation of the Green Action Plan and providing advice / feedback. The task force is composed of representatives of the economic sector, that is, from European associations representing SMEs or Chambers of Commerce as well as academics.

First Global Forum on New Economy and Social Innovation (NESI)

In 2016, Ecopreneur.eu became partner of the "New Economy & Social Innovation Global Forum" (NESI). It is an open forum for everyone interested on building together a more sustainable, social, fair, and collaborative economy oriented towards the Common Good. For the first time, a global event is being organized to set the foundations of a New Economy.

Members

De Groene Zaak (Netherlands)

De Groene Zaak is the leading sustainable business association in the Netherlands, uniting over two hundred pioneering companies. Its partners hold to a clear business principle: transforming our current economic system to a sustainable and circular one as fast as possible.

De Groene Zaak supports this goal by lobbying for fair competition for sustainable business, by putting sustainability issues on the public agenda, and by connecting sustainable entrepreneurs within our network.

Entreprendre Vert (France)

Entreprendre Vert (EV©) was founded in 2005 to strengthen the dialogue between the economic world and other societal stakeholders. It is an association for entrepreneurs who are involved in sustainable development. EV© allows its members to benefit from this progress and to strengthen the voice of sustainable and ecological entrepreneurialism.

The association counts approximately one hundred active members and reaches, via PR activities and networking, several thousands of entrepreneurs, legal representatives, students and associations.

www.entreprendrevert.org

ECOVE (Spain)

ECOVE, Asociación de Empresas de la Economía Verde, is the Spanish Green Business Association aiming to catalyze a sustainable economy in Spain and Europe, by strengthening business ecosystems and bringing the voice of SMEs and ecopreneurs to decision makers.

ECOVE's goals are to serve as an instrument to improve laws and public policies in the transition towards a green and sustainable economy, to support the needs and interests of the member enterprises of the association and to contribute to the development, promotion, and interconnection of all regional green economy ecosystems within Spain.

www.ecove.org

Grüne Wirtschaft (Austria)

Grüne Wirtschaft (GW©) is the organization of green entrepreneurs and freelancers in Austria. It represents the interests of freelancers as well as small businesses. Also, GW© is active in the green fraction of the Austrian Federal Economic Chamber. The organization campaigns for a sustainable way of economic activity following the core values of ecology, fairness, self-determination, non-violence, feminism and diversity.

www.gruenewirtschaft.at

Sustainable Economy Association (Belgium)

Sustainable Economy Association (SEA) wants to accelerate the economic transition towards a sustainable economic model. The association located in Brussels comprises 50 members, all of them working as executives, managers or business experts in different organizations (large private and publicly owned companies, consultants, SMEs). They all share the positive passion that climate change and environmental issues are drivers for innovation and rethinking of our business models. Businesses that integrate sustainability into their core decision-making processes are able to create new sources of value for our economies, customers, employees and shareholders.
