

Green City Accord – Supporters’ Statement

Clean and Healthy Cities for Europe

While the EU’s policies over the years have led to significant progress in improving the environment, and in raising standards across the EU Member States, many environmental challenges still prevail. With more than 70% of the EU’s population currently living in urban areas, cities are critical to meeting the EU’s environmental objectives and in helping the EU to become a more sustainable region.

The Green City Accord is a movement of European mayors committed to making cities cleaner and healthier. By signing the Green City Accord, cities agree to achieve by 2030 significant improvements in air quality, water quality and efficiency, progress in conserving and enhancing urban biodiversity and in reducing noise pollution. Cities also commit to advance towards the circular economy by securing a significant improvement in the management of household municipal waste.

As Green City Accord Supporters, we endorse the Accord’s vision of a cleaner urban environment.

Within the scope of our own work, according to our areas of expertise, and in line with our own institutional objectives and/or mandates, we will:
